Certify yourself into a better position.

The first certification:

Not only are AAPC students three times more likely to pass the certification exam – studies show that AAPC-certified coders earn, on average, $10,000 more annually than their uncertified peers.

Your next certification(s):

As your career progresses, you can grow and validate your skillset with additional certifications. Studies consistently show that more certifications tend to command higher pay.

Never stop advancing.

AAPC offers a wide range of courses designed around a variety of specialties and practices. You can train with a class and a live instructor or do it at your own pace with on-demand classes. Whatever you do, the sooner you start, the sooner you can get ahead. We'll be here for you through every step.

Breakout Session 4

4A: Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion: Understanding Microaggressions

Presenter: L. Renee Bradley, CPC, CPC-P

Description: Microaggressions stem from unconscious bias or misunderstanding of groups of people who are different from us. They are indirect, subtle discrimination against members of a marginalized group, usually taking the form of a statement, action, incident, or exclusion. Rarely are these actions intentional, but they still create great harm and erect barriers between individuals. This presentation will help you understand what microaggressions are and how to deal with them within your work environment.

4B: The Magical World of Oncology Billing

Presenter: MariaRita Genovese, CPC

Description: Oncology billing can be challenging. This session will highlight common denials, authorization processes, place of service issues, and new chemotherapy medication procedures.

4C: What You Need to Know to Be a Successful IP Coder

Presenter: Marianne Durling, MHA, RHIA, CCS, CDIP, CPC, CPCO, CDEI, CIC, AAPC Approved Instructor

Description: In this session we'll review the differences between IP and OP coding and talk about the important elements and regulations you need to understand if you want to make the transition from OP coder to IP coder. We will also talk about education, jobs, and advancement for IP coders.

4D: The Incident-To Rule: Common Misconceptions and Fraud Liability

Presenter: Michael Miscoe, Esq., CPC, CASCC, CUC, CCPC, CPCO, CPMA, CHCC, AAPC Fellow

Description: This advanced interactive session will outline, through common examples, the more problematic elements of the CMS incident-to rule, which is applicable to outpatient services, as well as address the compliance risks associated with reporting services under this rule. Attendees will be asked to work through a number of common scenarios to operationalize their understanding of some of the more commonly problematic components of the rule, which include:

What it means to establish that care is integral although incidental to the physician's professional service; how licensure issues impact compliance with the incident-to rule under the auxiliary person definition; and how or if the rule applies to care supervised by non-physician practitioners.

4E: E/M in Orthopedics: An Auditor's Perspective

Presenter: Angela Clements, CPC, CPMA, CEMC, CGSC, COSC, AAPC Approved Instructor

Description: In this session we will discuss E/M documentation supporting a level of service related to the orthopedic specialty. What information are we stretching and giving credit for that could put our practice at risk during an external audit? How do we educate our providers to capture documentation that supports the level of service that was coded? Join me to learn the answers to these questions and more.

Breakout Session 5

5A: Coding and Billing Split/Shared Services

Presenter: Beverly Strube, COC, CPC, CPMA, CPC-I, CEMC, COBGC

Description: Split/shared coding and billing is undergoing rapid changes. This Medicare concept is very confusing to providers and it's not getting any easier. This presentation will include the current state of split/shared billing and the planned future of the concept. We will also discuss best methods for explaining the concept to the provider community.

5B: It's a Cruel, Cruel Summer: The Transition From V24 to V28 Risk Adjustment Model

Presenter: Amy Pritchett, CPC, CPCO, CDEI, CDEO, CPMA, CRC, CPC-I, CANPC, CASCC, CEDC, AAPC Fellow

By the end of the session you'll understand the intent of CMS' 11 guidelines for the development of emergency services facility levels. We'll discuss the growing pressures from payers and regulatory bodies to support emergency levels and strategies to mitigate the risk of reduced revenues from denials and down-coding in a transparent environment. You'll also learn the varied methodologies in the development of a facility's guidelines, including pros and cons of each, and we'll identify opportunities for improvement in current facility methodologies and immediate next steps to assess and implement positive change.

5D: Finding Balance Between the Physician and the Auditor

Presenter: Shannon O'Tyson DeConda, CPC, CPMA, CPC-I, CEMC

Description: Being an auditor is a complex job. You must talk, walk, and look the role, know your stuff, but never lose your cool. You must analyze and review superiors, then educate them on found deficiencies, staying pleasant and approachable the entire time. The job can feel like a tightrope from which you might fall at any time. This session will walk you through tips and facts on building and maintaining a stellar auditor reputation.

5E: E/M Audits for Primary Care

Presenter: Jacob Swartzwelder, CPC, CIC, CRC, CEMC, AAPC Approved Instructor

Description: Join me to discuss the latest updates and changes in E/M coding and documentation guidelines as they pertain to primary care. We'll explore primary care audit risks in each MDM section and cover common errors and pitfalls in E/M documentation that primary care providers should be aware of to avoid denials and payer audits. The importance of ongoing education and training for primary care providers and their staff to ensure continued compliance with E/M guidelines and best practices will be reviewed. Attendees can expect to leave with a better understanding of the E/M auditing process as it applies to primary care and with practical strategies for improving documentation and coding practices to ensure compliance and accuracy.

Breakout Session 6

6A: Defusing Denials

Presenter: Shannon O'Tyson
DeConda, CPC, CPMA, CPC-I,
CEMC

Description: As an operating expense, denials are one of the costliest. They represent duplicative work that, in many cases, could have been prevented. In this session we'll discuss the big picture to be considered, including analyzing denials for better understanding of the scale and source of the volume, the type of denials (whether billing or documentation), and proactive measures that can alleviate future denials.

6B: Grasping Wrist, Hand, and Finger Coding

Presenter: Jessyka Burke, CPC,
CASCC, COSC

Description: By the end of this presentation, attendees will be able to easily identify basic anatomic parts; understand the difference between flexor and extensor tendons and how these impact coding for repairs; grasp the idea of hand and wrist fracture treatments; code complex wrist and hand procedures; and know where to turn for help.

6C: Industry Inpatient Coding Standards of the Medical Record

Presenter: Shannon Cameron,
MBA, MHIIM, CPC

Description: This session will cover facility coding as it relates to common denials and top misreported DRGs per recent CMS and OIG feedback. In addition, we'll review conundrums and challenges organizations face during the facility revenue cycle process and ways to determine if your facility is compliant.

6D: Compliance

6E: E/M Audits for Cardiology

Presenter: Sharon Jane Oliver, CPC, CDEO, CPMA, CRC, AAPC Approved Instructor

Description: In this session we will dissect the information in an actual
